

Wine-Seminar for beginners

Which wine with which food and what glass should be used?

The question, which wine is appropriate to a certain dish and in what glass it should be served is far from trivial.

How wine is best stored, when which wine is ready to drink and whatever questions more might occur can be answered during such an evening.

The right way to handle wine can be decisive at private or business occasions. Let us take you – in casual company – into the wonderful World of Wine.

We won't confine ourselves to theory: We will send your taste buds on a amazing journey through the world of aromas and flavours.
